Message from the Champaign-Urbana Public Health District Administrator, Julie Pryde - “As we move into Phase 4 of the Restore Illinois plan, it is important to remember that everyone must adhere to the guidance, wear a mask in public (especially in buildings), and continue to social distance. Moving forward through the phases does not mean that the virus is gone and no longer a threat. We must continue to protect ourselves and our friends and neighbors throughout our community, especially those who are most vulnerable. This is not the time to take a break from practices that have been implemented and practiced for the past three months. This is going to need to continue throughout the pandemic so that we do not have a set-back.”
