Purpose of an Advisory

The consumer advisory is meant to inform consumers, especially highly susceptible populations (older adults, preschool-age children, pregnant women, individuals with weakened immune systems) about the increased risk of foodborne illness from eating raw or undercooked animal foods through use of both a disclosure and reminder.

The consumer advisory can be presented by using brochures, seafood case or menu advisories, label statements, table tents, placards, or other effective written means.

Disclosure Shall Include:

1) A description of the animal-derived foods, such as “oysters on the half-shell (raw oysters),” “raw-egg Caesar salad dressing; and “hamburgers (can be cooked to order)”;

2) Identification of the animal-derived foods in a menu or other listing by asterisking them to a footnote that states that the items are served raw or undercooked or contain (or may contain) raw or undercooked ingredients.

Reminder Shall Include:

Asterisking the animal-derived foods that require disclosure in a menu or other listing to a footnote that states that:

1) Written information regarding the safety of these items is available upon request;

2) Consuming raw or undercooked meats, poultry, seafood, shellfish, or eggs may increase your risk for foodborne illness; or

3) Consuming raw or undercooked meats, poultry, seafood, shellfish, or eggs may increase your risk for foodborne illness, especially if you have certain medical conditions.
DISCLOSURE

* These are disclosure asterisks (*). They tell the consumer that these menu items contain animal product offered raw or undercooked.

* "Cooked to order" items must also be marked with the disclosure asterisk (*).

REMINDER STATEMENT

* This is one of several acceptable reminder statements. It is marked with the exact same symbol (*) used to indicate the disclosed menu items.
